1. How has classical liberalism appeared throughout history and cultures?
2. How has human adaptability led to the rise and evolution of civil society? What can be determined as a set of possible outcomes and probabilities that led to this rise?
3. To what extent have civilizations throughout time met the base needs of a civil society?
4. How has justice throughout history depended upon your identity (race, culture, religion, social class)?
5. How have absolute rulers suppressed political discourse?
